

Do you really believe that MTV is an appropriate choice for the Super Bowl half time show? What would you expect, trash, nudity, crotch grabbing, breast exposure, or all of the above? Well, if your answer was yes, you did a great job! Much to the disappointment of any family you failed all of us. Are there no regulations for such behavior? No wonder so many teens become pregnant, AIDS is rising, venereal disease is on the increase year-by-year. Wonder why? Look at the television. Now, the Super Bowl is off limits to concerned parents and upright citizens. We are very disappointed in this situation. This was clearly a planned showing, otherwise how can anyone grab a shirt and expose flesh??? Please stop lying to those that care.
